Dr Sir

Your postal rec'd & purchased 1094 for my own collection. It is a rare Medal seldom found in such fine condition & do not think I could replace it at the price you name. I do not care to sell it for less than 1.50, not that I want to make on it, as I want to keep it more.

Yours

Yours of March 25th rec'd. I do not know what you have in the way of G.A.R badges or medals, but I am loaded to muggle with them, some 400 or more. I am well aware what they bring at sales & otherwise. still if you see fit you may send a package on approval at bottom price. but you must be dissapointed if I find them all to be duplicates. What a black eye Assn Medals got at the Cleveland Sale I have 30.

Yours truly

Yours of 14th at hand & too paid 40¢ expressage with the badges 50¢ makes 90¢. 60¢ will buy the badge. I suppose you understood my offer for 1 doz of for 6. 40 & 4.00 for 2 doz 9-10-11. I left out the important word rules. I did not care much for them but as you took the trouble to send the package I offered full as much as I wished to pay. I do care to add any more expense. Had the G A R badges been such as I did not have I should have left most of them. I do not find anything in the coin sale that I want. The Warners was old friends of mine for many years (about 40). When you sent me so many of his medals I thought "Charly" was selling out or had up. all the same, My Assay Medals I lack 1881-1891-2-3-6-7-8-1900-1 but I have done paying fancy prices, Trust your sale will be a success

Yours truly

Enclosed please find check (400) for medals rec'd. As I said before I do not care for them. Any one can have them at cost. Assay medals are too high for me. I see Bronze sold at the Cleveland sale. For got I do not know if you or Wills bought it as they were, if not all purchased by yourselves and Wills. I do not mention this as any news.

Yours truly
